PINK FLOYD CD DISCOGRAPHY

APPENDIX Radio Shows

A radio show is usually a one or two (in some cases more) hours programme which is produced by companies such as Album Network or Westwood One, pressed onto CD, and distributed to their syndicated radio stations for broadcast. This form of broadcasting is being used extensively in the USA. In Europe the structure of the radio stations is different, the stations are more locally oriented and the radio shows on CDs are very rare.

Most CD radio shows were generally available via subscription to radio stations for broadcast. It is uncertain if the distribution was cost free. Only few publishers of the radio shows sent the CDs to radio stations 'on demand' without subscription like one of the newest publishers on the market called Cahn Media.

Most of the radio CDs do not have a cover or were issued in generic sleeves of the company that produced them.

Examples of generic cardboard sleeves: 'In The Studio', Westwood One and 'Flashback!'.

Only few radio shows were issued with special designed artworks for these shows.

Like the packaging, the label design was in most cases very simple. A silver disc with appropriate logos and black lettering are typical for a radio show CD. Each line has a standard label design.

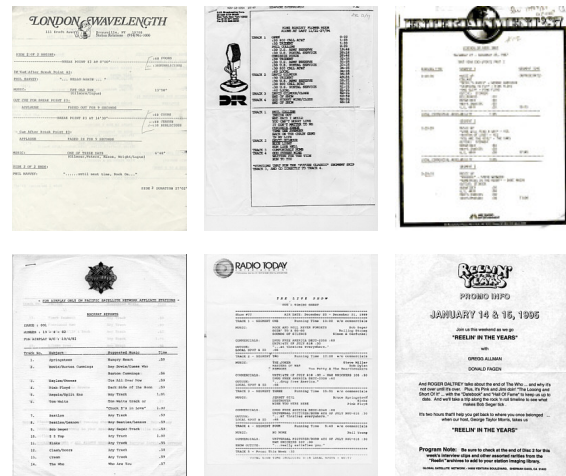

Examples of standard label designs for the radio show lines. From left: 'In The Studio' (The Album Network), 'Flashback!' (Radio Today) and 'The Classic' (United Stations).

Very few exceptions are known, but the CDs from e.g. the 'Up Close' and 'Tune Up' lines and the shows from Global Satellite Network have an individual, colourful label design.

The CDs are mostly accompanied by cue sheets which break the CD down into the broadcast segments and list the content of each segment as well as detailing the advertising breaks. This helps the syndicated radio stations to include their own local advertising if required.

Examples of cue sheets from different radio networks.

Distinctness for the radio shows from Westwood One is the additional Certificate of Performance, in which the radio station must state an annotation about when the radio show was broadcasted.

There are several types of radio CDs: live material, interviews of the members of the band accompanied by excerpts from their studio recordings, comments from the DJ or a combination of the three. It exists radio CDs with Pink Floyd material exclusively and Various Artists 'sampler' shows which includes music and/or interviews with many artists.

Several companies produce radio shows on CDs. The first ones were probably from Media America Radio, which appeared in 1987, but the most famous and prolific syndicator is Westwood One.

Since the late 1990's many companies used CDRs to produce the radio CDs. It is now difficult to distinguish official editions from counterfeited ones.

Here is a brief description of some companies, who produced the radio shows on CDs but the complete list of the companies is longer.

Acoustic Storm Radio Network: The Acoustic Storm is a radio program, featuring the variety of acoustic-based rock. The shows spotlight an artist in 'The Eye of The Acoustic Storm' with music, bio information and sound bites.

Album Network: This company numbered his shows progressively. The content of the shows is cyclically repeated, with a different show number. For example the Wish You Were Here show previously released as show #378 (1995) was three times re-released as shows #564 (1999), #639 (2000) and #900 (2005) with identical content. Each show was distributed to approximately 175 to 225 radio stations. The CDs from Album Network are better known as 'In The Studio' (but not all shows from this line were signed by Album Network).

BBC: BBC has published an extremely rare CD set with the show titled 'Echoes: A History of Pink Floyd' which consisted of 6 CDs with jewel cases and BBC covers.

Cahn Media: This US company has published two Pink Floyd related CDRs. They are probably sponsored by Columbia - you can find Columbia logo on the Cahn Media CDs.

EMI: EMI Germany has published a double CDR titled 'Pink Floyd Radio Special'. EMI has also issued some CDRs with radio advertisements..

Global Satellite Network: This company has issued a large number of shows with various artists featuring music of Pink Floyd and interviews with band members. All these shows were issued in the 'Reelin' in the Years' line. Only two shows with Pink Floyd were issued: 'Wish You Were Here' in 1991 and 'Headset' with Jim Ladd in 2000.

Media America Radio: Probably the first company to publish a Pink Floyd radio show. Compared to other radio CDs, its labels are very colourful. Their shows are named 'Up Close' and go by the year: From 2000 the syndicator becomes Jones Radio Network.

Radio Today Entertainment: Also known as ABC Radio Today. Famous for its Various Artists shows called 'Flashback!'. There are dozens of them, double or quadruple CDs, with Pink Floyd appearing only with a few tracks, together with other artists from the 70s. There is also a 1998 show completely dedicated to Pink Floyd, 'The Dark Side of the Moon 25th Anniversary'.

SFX Radio Network Somehow connected to Album Network. Has also issued some 'In The Studio' shows.

Westwood One: America's largest radio network, providing over 150 programs and services to more than 5000 radio stations around the world. The shows are numbered with the last two digits of the year followed by the digits of the week. For instance: 96-39 is the show from the 39th week in 1996. Westwood One has also issued a CD titled 'A CD Full of Secrets'. It is uncertain if the CD was sent to radio stations only. This CD is not really a radio show, it is a collection of rare Pink Floyd songs and was released in two versions. As a standard issue in a jewel case and as a limited edition in a white lacquered wooden box.

Most of the radio shows in this discography are listed company by company. Only two renowned lines of radio shows are listed together whilst the CDs have different publishers:

In The Studio: Album Network, SFX, Winstar Radio Services, Excelsior Radio Networks.

Up Close: MCA, Media America Radio, Jones Radio Network.

Some record labels (for example EMI and Capitol) have also issued CDRs with advertisements to promote new albums. These CDs with very short content (sometimes of very few seconds only) are not a typical radio shows but they were produced especially for radio broadcast. You can also find these CDs listed here.

Radio CDs are very valuable to some collectors. Due to limitation of these edition they are rarer than most of the promotional issues and have reached very high prices on the collector's market.

The presentation of the shows with Pink Floyd or band members solely includes the picture of the CD and artwork. But the pictures of the individual covers or generic sleeves are only included if the CD was issued with artwork - in many cases the radio shows were issued in neutral white sleeves or clear plastic wallets. In these cases you can see the image of the CD only.

In some cases you can also find images of original cue sheets. While most of the radio shows were accompanied by the cue sheets, it is very hard to find these papers today.

The shows with various artists featuring Pink Floyd or band members are only listed, without illustrations.
